About 3R1

Training is rendered by Working Professionals who have 8-10 years of industry experience, who direct the candidates with the most adept knowledge and work culture to prepare them for the journey and sustain in most IT companies. The training would be accompanied by live project and placement support which makes the candidates ready to be absorbed in the industry.

The global education system seems incompetent to keep pace with the ever changing expert and trained people requirements in industry and technology.

3R1 Technologies understands the immense need and so makes an invention in the education system and develop a new framework of learning which is focused on the demand of the industry. We provide practical, hands-on, short-term certificate courses which repletes the gap between industry needs and university output.

We in 3R1 Technologies don't believe in making students learn everything the horizon of their domain if they are improbable to enforce those skills in their career for a longer time span. In the domains that we maneuver in, we provide a range of courses to meet every need and requirement of the industry and the person's career stage. This is how we aim to create a knowledge hub for that particular domain/industry.

Respect for knowledge,
